Hi, my name is Buttons

Looking for love

Female Manx Mix Cat

Buttons had been living rough for some time before she was found and placed into foster care. Even though she has not had the best experience of people, she is still extremely affectionate and craves attention. Buttons is a delightful tabby manx girl who would be best suited to a home where she could enjoy the outdoors from the safety of a cat run or outside enclosure. She is not a fussy eater, good with her litter tray and generally a sweet cat to have around.
