

Hi, my name is Diamond (Dolly)

Looking for love

Small Female Chihuahua x Maltese Mix Dog

Diamond AKA Dolly is looking for her forever home. Diamond is a sweet girl who loves to chill out in the sun or curl up on the couch with you. Since being in care she has been crate trained and will happily sleep the night through. Diamond is toilet trained has had no accidents inside the house or in her crate. If Diamond feels threatened or nervous she will snarl as a warning and she can be protective over her food so for this reason a home without younger children would be best. Diamond would best suited to a quiet home where she can be loved and part of every day life with the family. She gets on well with other dogs so another dog for companionship would be great but if her new owners are home all the time i think she would cope being an only dog too. Diamond LOVES going for walks and walks well on the lead and loves to go for car rides as they are really exciting. She's ideally suited to be an indoor dog as she prefers to be indoors, also she does get very nervous in storms so needs to be safely locked inside the house or inside in a crate. Diamond is...
