Male Domestic Short Hair Cat

This kitten was rescued by a member of the public who found its litter dumped in a box in their local park along with a packet of food. They were babies when they were dumped and they were raised and cared for by their rescuer until they were old enough to start looking for homes. They will be forever grateful that they were found by someone so caring. The kittens have now been surrendered into DCH foster care to find them suitable homes as the rescuer was travelling overseas. This kitten is available now for adoption and will come microchipped, vaccinated, wormed and desexed. Please contact us for more information.
