

Hi, my name is Emily

Looking for love

Female Domestic Short Hair Cat

Emily (Emmie) is a dear little poppet with a very loving nature. She looks forward to seeing you and pushes her little face into your hand for smooches. She's started sleeping on my lap while I'm on the computer lately and lying close up against me on the lounge, which is really sweet. Emmie is very inquisitive and independent, but does enjoy her human company. Her best friend is a little ginger boy named Archie who is only a few weeks younger than her. She was dumped with her 3 siblings at an industrial factory in Windsor and the workers there were able to gain her trust and get her to the point we are at today, able to find a home and give her another chance in life :-). She can be a bit jumpy with sudden noises or movements, so we think she'd suit a quiet home with no children.

Emily has been desexed, had her vaccinations, plus she has been worm- and flea-treated.
