

Hi, my name is Whitie

Looking for love

Small Male Fox Terrier Dog

Whitie is waiting for his special person! Gorgeous little Whitie came to us from a large breeding establishment and we are not sure how much human interaction he has had. He was very timid and unsure when he first came into care but has come such a long way and is now looking for his very special home where he can be shown patience and love to help him continue down this positive track. He warms to people once he gets to know them and enjoys their pats and company. In the right home we believe he will develop into a loving and loyal companion. Whitie gets along really well with other small dogs and is really happy when he is playing with his furry friends. We will be looking for a quiet home with no children for Whitie where he will have a desexed little buddy to help him continue to gain confidence. Whitie is currently in Nth Dandenong
