

Hi, my name is Jock

Looking for love

Male Domestic Short Hair Cat

Jock came to us in a fairly unhealthy state and having spent a lot of time in isolation we found him to be the perfect patient. Since being out of isolation he has shown himself to be an absolute gentleman, he is more than tolerant of all other cats and dogs in his environment. He is a very affectionate cat who loves a belly rub and enjoys human company as well as spending time stretched out somewhere quiet. He is absolutely no trouble at all and is loved by the entire household. Although he is a bit older, he still has his playful moments and enjoys showing this playful side. He likes to roam outside occasionally but is usually happier to spend time indoors. I'm sure that if this cat could talk he would have many great stories to tell!

Walks with a head tilt and seems to have a problem with his third eyelid on his right eye, but this doesn't bother him and the vet isn't overly concerned about either issue.
