

Hi, my name is Kayla

Looking for love

Medium Female Mixed Breed Mix Dog

Miss Kayla came through the pound, She was a tiny skinny little pup but has been in care since December and she has now become tall and still a pup and still skinny but they say you cant fatten a thoroughbred. . How gorgeous is this girl.. Kayla has the most beautiful eyes.. We believe she may be a greyhound x. Kayla would love a home with someone who is home as she gets a bit anxious if left for long hours. She is improving and learning that her human does comes back. She will also need secure fences although she is learning that this side of the fence is the best place to be. She is dog friendly with the right dog. Kayla will need some ongoing training to help her become balanced and happy. She is a delight to have around as she is happy, playful and eager to please. Except when her tail wags and feels like a whip on your legs.. She would suit older kids as smaller ones are a little scary for her. Kayla is such a sweet girl looking for the right human to guide and love her forever
