

Hi, my name is Duckie

Transformed Bun!

Male Domestic Rabbit

Duckie had a rough start to life and spent the first 10 weeks of his life kept in a small hutch in a shed with little to no human contact and only his brother Moose for company. When they first came into care they were very scared but since they have been with us they have moved forward with their new lives in leaps and bounds! They have become quite the independent bunnies who aren't afraid of anything! Their personalities shine bright and they will light up your life with their little quirks. Duckie is quite bonded to his brother Moose and they would suit a home where they can have an area of the house set-up as their own with all their toys, food and litter trays with free-range access time to the house and supervised outdoor time. Duckie is ok with cats, small/calm dogs and older children.
