

Hi, my name is Holly Dingo

Sweet and Affectionate

Medium Female Dingo Dog

Hi my name is Holly and I love love love cuddles! I'm always looking for a cheek to lick or waiting patiently for pat, looking up at you with my big puppy eyes. I love my humans and all the shelter volunteers say I'm an absolute sweetheart, cheeky and playful with a soft, affectionate side. I'm an outgoing confident little lady (just like my brothers who have all found homes!) and have started basic leash training at the shelter,

I can also sit (I am very food motivated). I love walks, and would make a great companion for an active family who love bush walks and maybe even camping! Kids over 5 only please as I am an energetic 18kg! I would love a home with a canine companion to goof around with but I could also go to home on my own with the right family. Right now I just want out of the shelter and to get to settle in with a family of my own. My brothers have all found their homes, and so it must be my turn! Background: I have been in care with a human family since I was found as a pup in bush at just 3 weeks old, the people who found me believe I was an orphan. Sad...
