

Hi, my name is Antenna

Looking for love

Female Domestic Short Hair Mix Cat

At first glance I may not seem like it, but I am a softie on the inside. My human passed away, and I got separated from my fur brothers and sisters. Such a big change has been very frightening for me, and I sang sad songs for a long time. I love hidey holes like closets, cat igloos, and under the bed. I can get defensive if you give me a shock, but that's just because I'm very very scared, so I'll be best in a house without too many humans, and no children or dogs. It's taken me a while to settle in to my foster home, but I have grown to love my foster brother Levi and even let my foster mum pet me sometimes when I'm eating. I loooooove food and catnip, they are the way to my heart, but also the reason I'll be best in a home where I can go on a diet! It will take careful introduction but a cat friend to play with is a great way for me to get exercise, and be more confident. Do you have the love and time I need to find a furrever home where I feel safe?
