

Hi, my name is Savannah

Adopt Love!

Medium Female Mixed Breed Dog

Miss Savannah was abandoned so she just rocked up to another plantation one day and made herself completely at home. Unfortunately she can't be adopted by them as they have enough dogs already.

Savannah is a funny looking girl but looks aren't everything hey. She has a great personality and is fantastic with kids and other dogs. She has never met cats so we will assume that she isn't good with them. This girl is very loyal and follows her humans around on their property and is extremely happy to lie in the shade and watch while others work hard to supply her with necessities such as treats. And food in general. The plantation has no fencing but she is more than content to stay with her new found family. She is only young so can be a little jumpy at first meeting new people until her initial excitement wears off. Savannah is responding well with training and she sits and walks well on a lead and enjoys car rides. She plays very well with other dogs and loves to lean into her humans for pats and cuddles. If you think you have a family that will fit this girl, please click on the link ...
