

Hi, my name is Yvie

Looking for love

Small Female Kelpie Mix Dog

They say good things come in small packages, and Yvie is no exception! At only 11kg, Yvie is a pint-sized Kelpie mix with a heart of gold, and ears so big they could pick up wif. Yvie has a sweet, affectionate nature. At home where she is confident, she is a playful, funny, cuddly girl. She is still wary of the outside world, and takes time to warm up to strangers, but once she feels safe will steal your heart with her cheeky, goofy antics. She is good on lead, however, is very nervous in new environments so needs a family who will continue taking things slow with her and building her confidence. She is toilet trained, has some basic obedience and would thrive with a family committed to her ongoing training. Yvie doesn't cope well on her own and for this reason needs to live alongside another confident dog. She has improved immensely in foster care and will continue to build confidence in the right family. She is fine with children, but will spook easily from loud noises or sudden movements so is suited to older kids. She would prefer a family around more than not. Y...
