

Hi, my name is Barney

Cute and Friendly!

Male Domestic Mix Rabbit

Meet Barney! Poor little Barney was found as a stray, very skinny and bald, he's come a long way since being in care and is now ready for his furever home. He's a gorgeous boy who can be a little timid, but once he warms up to you he LOVES head rubs and pats. He doesn't mind being picked up but as with most rabbits he'd prefer to stay on the floor. Barney is very curious and friendly, he definitely is an explorer and we think he'd get along with the right bun. He's litter trained and is definitely not a fussy eater! Barney will eat pretty much anything you give him, but absolutely scoffs down his daily pellet serving. He would love an indoor home with a big space to run around. Barney has now been desexed, vaccinated and microchipped. If you think you can offer this stunning man a home, feel free to get in contact with us!
