

Hi, my name is Odin

Loves to Cuddle

Medium Male Boxer x American Staffordshire Bull Terrier x American Bulldog Mix Dog

This little bundle of goofy fun loves long snuggles on the couch as much as he loves long walks and running. Odin is 1 year old, desexed, microchipped. He would love to live with an active person who goes walking and running. Odin loves chasing after a ball, running around the yard and then collapsing into your arms on the couch. He really is the best cuddler. After a slow introduction, he quickly warms up to everyone and will follow the pats around from anyone he meets. Being a country boy, he is still getting used to Melbourne life so walks are a little bit intimidating for him. He is both excited and a little overwhelmed by the cars, bikes and trains that speed past him. Odin is a quick learner but will need some guidance, training and patience to get him up to speed on his basics. He is responsive to praise and treats and keen to learn. Being such a smoocher, he does miss his people when you leave the house so finding ways to help calm and amuse him is key. He would suit someone that is home most of the time, but with time he'll settle in just fine. We th...
