

Hi, my name is Storm & Chief

Brother & sister

Medium Male Siberian Husky Dog

There's a lot to be said for choosing to adopt a ready-made husky pack. By all means, puppies are really adorable, and they're an enormous amount of work. But a ready-made pack? It's an excellent idea. How does: already house-trained, out of the puppy stage, desexed, mature, know who they are AND already know and love each other? Well, you'd better meet Storm and Chief. They're a bonded pair who have been together since they were born and they just make the perfect team. Storm and Chief just want a family to call their own, love to pieces, and have lots of lovely walks with. They love attention, are active, and adore hiking and swimming as well as their regular walks. They both love children, and older children will suit them best, because sometimes they forget their size when they hand out their love! Both Storm and Chief are fine on lead, are obedient and have good manners, and would both enjoy more training as they get to know their new humans. Storm is a very sweet and quiet girl, and she's affectionate (kisses will be incoming on a regular basis), lov...
