

Hi, my name is Poppy

Beautiful green eyes

Female Domestic Short Hair Cat

Poppy is a cute little girl who can be a little shy at first but when she gets to know you, she's affectionate and cuddly. She is currently being boarded at Beverly Hills vets and has been there for over 2 months since her owner can no longer care for her and her buddy William.

Poppy can be timid at times and won't go near strangers. She got her tail caught in the fence when she was little so now she just has a little stump. She's well behaved and very loving and deserves a second chance. She has grown up with her buddy William so we are trying to find them a home together. Here is his profile:

<https://www.petrescue.com.au/listings/755082> If you have room in your heart and home for this older lady, we'd love to hear from you. It's a heartbreaking situation for her owner to be in and we wish nothing more than to help them find a good home for her. Poppy is currently boarded at a vet in Beverly Hills. Meet and greets can be arranged upon request. Lets try and get her out of boarding x
