

Hi, my name is Chito

Companion

Large Male American Bulldog Dog

Chito is a super sweet and loving companion. He loves people (especially the ones he knows already) and when he sees them he gets very excited (sometimes forgetting his size, it takes few minutes to calm him down but after that he is the most gentle giant). Chito would benefit to have another dog living with him, a confident female dog, probably better less active and not pushy. Chito would also be fine as the only dog at his new home if a human is around home most of the time. Chito likes walks but not hard core ones. And he does enjoy saying hello to 2 and 4 legged strangers when out for walks. Chito doesn't pull on the leash which is a dream. Chito is friendly with kids, he doesn't know his size though when he does get excited so better not little ones in case they get knocked over. Chito doesn't care much for toys, his love is food. He enjoys the outdoor during the day because he loves sun like a lizard but when the sun goes down he walks himself inside to the couch and the blanket...an absolute must for him 🐾 Please submit an application <https://www.minisbulldog.com.au>
