

Hi, my name is Henry & Bertie

Ragdoll Love

Male Ragdoll Cat

Meet Henry and Bertie, two absolutely delightful older brothers. Henry and Bertie were recently adopted after being in our care for a very long time, unfortunately their new owner has had a change of circumstances and can no longer care for them. As we absolutely love them to bits they have gone into foster care instead of coming back to the shelter but they deserve a home to retire to in their senior years. Henry has diabetes and requires an insulin injection twice daily at regular intervals...its not as daunting as it seems as he is a very good patient. But obviously there is an expense in buying insulin and needles so any decision to adopt them needs to be well thought out and all costs factored in. Henry is currently on a special Diabetic diet to keep his weight under control to help manage his diabetes. On the plus side you will be gaining two fantastically loving brothers who will repay you in more ways than you can ever imagine. If you could consider giving them a special forever home please private message our Facebook page. Their adoption fee is $250 and both boys...
