

Hi, my name is Patches

Looking for love

Female Domestic Medium Hair Mix Cat

Our names are Patches and Houdini. Patches is the giant compared to little, tiny Houdini but we are both quite elderly ladies in search of a quiet life. We are both very shy although Patches is much braver than little Houdini, and she likes to patrol the house calling her special call to warn off any predators, a little annoying at times but she stops if you say hello to her. I think she knows that two other cats live in the foster home with her but they live on the other side of a magical door that she is not allowed past. Maybe, when she is in her own home she will not need to call to them. We both love to snuggle up with foster dad on the couch and Houdini loves to cuddle him in bed. He is our special person and we love him more than foster mum. We love each other too, especially if we are frightened like we were in the shelter, then we cuddled each other all the time. We like living inside now and as Houdini had a skin cancer removed from her little nose its better that we both stay out of the sun.
