

Hi, my name is Jack

ON ADOPTION TRIAL

Large Male Mastiff Mix Dog

Jack is a big, boisterous Mastiff X only 12 months old . Jack last weighed in over 35kgs and is blissfully unaware of his size and strength . For that reason alone Jack wouldn't suit a home with small children . Untested with cats but I suggest Jack would get mouthy with small animals . He currently easily engages in a chase with livestock and poultry so strict separation would be required until he learns some impulse control . Jack has no aggressive tendencies though ...he just wants to play with everyone. He gets on well with other dogs and again, just wants to romp and play. Jack has a lot more growing to do and being a big, boofy teenage lad he needs a strong handler willing to continue firm and consistent training .

He's a happy dude though and is easily trained with treats and toys. He's caught onto housetraining quickly and is getting the basics of obedience . Jack will need further lead training and is just getting used to car travel.
