

Hi, my name is Louie

Looking for love

Male Domestic Short Hair Cat

Louie has not had the easiest life & understandably it has made him apprehensive with people and not trusting of them. He is very reserved and timid when meeting new people and does not like change. We have got to know Louie and he us, and he has shown the staff members he knows well that he is a real sweetheart. Once settled he will snuggle on your bed, after you have fallen asleep. He is quietly affectionate, loves pats and snoozing away the day. His favourite game is playing with paper balls. Louie needs a very particular and experienced feline home that will spend the time to win over his trust and give him a chance at happiness. A home that is quiet with no children or other four legged family members, a home that loves routine and has very little change. Louie gets startled easily and sudden loud noises can upset his demure and behaviour until he settles again. We know Louie is what many people would refer to as anxious, reactive and unpredictable. But we also know and have seen that he is a loving and delightful boy who just needs the right human to love.
