

Hi, my name is Loxley

Looking for love

Male Domestic Short Hair Cat

Meet Loxley! This absolute dude came to us when his family moved away and left him behind. Stub tailed Loxley is a confident young guy who loves to stick his nose in everything. He is a big fan of cardboard boxes, in particular, shredding them, then joining his human on the couch for a cuddle. He likes to follow his human around the house so he can stay abreast of the daily happenings. Loxley came into care with an eye ulcer, he received treatment though his eye issue persisted. Through many vet visits we found he had Feline Entropion, a nasty eye affliction that causes the eye lashes to turn in and rub on the eyeball causing immense pain. We quickly booked him in for corrective surgery and can now proudly say Loxley has healed quickly like the foxy little dude he is, and is ready to move into the next stage of his life happy, healthy and ready for his loving forever home Please PM us if you would like to meet Loxley Name: Loxley Sex: Male Colour: Tabby Breed: DSH DOB: 21/05/2019 Adoption Fee: $169, which goes towards the cost of Desexing, Microchip, up to date Vacci...
