

Hi, my name is Missy And Buddy

We love to play fetch

Medium Female Australian Cattle Dog Mix Dog

It is always heartbreaking when someone passes away, especially if it is an unexpected passing. Whilst it is difficult for people to make sense of, it can be even harder for the pets when their human suddenly disappears. This can be extremely hard for the furkids of someone who was home the majority of the time, who was their constant companion and who spent every day and night with them. This is the situation that Missy and Buddy have found themselves in and their entire world has changed forever. Their daddy has passed away and they suddenly find themselves needing to find a new home. Missy and Buddy are both around 8 years old and have been very well loved. Buddy even accompanied his dad on daily coffee dates to a local café and Missy was a little (a lot) too well fed. Both Missy and Buddy are friendly and love the car. Buddy is ball crazy and will play fetch all day if you will throw the ball for him. Both Missy and Buddy love toys and food. Missy can be protective of her brother and they both get along extremely well. They are like an old married couple who finish each others...
