

Hi, my name is Nyx

Clever and energetic

Medium Female Bull Arab Mix Dog

Meet Nyx, Seeking foster or forever home! Nyx is a very sweet and affectionate girl who has lots of energy to burn so will be well suited to an active couple. While she has been with us, Nyx has shown to be very unpredictable with other dogs, demonstrating fearful and defensive reactions. She is happy to play with them but tends to become reactive without warning. We believe she will be happier and more relaxed in a home as an only dog but with loads of company and attention offered from her special people. She can cope well on her own for a few hours but will get very lonely if both of her people work fulltime and she is alone all day. If being left alone, Nyx copes well outside, or in a confined place like a laundry. Nyx currently sleeps inside and loves to snuggle with her foster parents. At the moment Nyx is very happy sleeping in a bed next to her foster mother; she tends to get very excited if allowed on the bed, thus the reason the bed is not her main sleeping spot. She is toilet trained but may need a few reminders when she moves house. She is not interested in in...
