

Hi, my name is Woody

Looking for love

Male Domestic Short Hair Cat

Hello peeps I'm Woody, I'm the biggest, the fluffiest, the best looking and also the shyest of my litter. Once I've gotten to know you I will become a little love bug just like all my siblings.

I love the company of other cats and would do well with another cat for company or even one of my brothers or my sister. Even tho I am still young I am very good with my litter box and I'm not fussy with food however my absolute favourite is my raw food and will happily protest when you forget to keep my bowl full of something I love cat trees and I will happily sit up high on the cat tree accepting pats and love from my family every time they pass me If your looking for sweet natured loving boy to call your very own don't go any further here I am waiting patiently for you to submit your application
