

Hi, my name is Pigwidgeon

Aviary Male Ringneck

Male Bird

Pigwidgeon, affectionately known as Pigeon, is a gorgeous Grey young male Ringneck Parrot. Pigeon came into care after a severe beak injury but has since completely recovered from this and is now ready to find a forever home. Pigeon has previously been an aviary bird so has had little contact with people and although we have been working on gaining his confidence he is still very worried about getting too close to people. Pigeon would best suit a home with an indoor or outdoor aviary, another Ringneck for him to befriend and people dedicated to gaining his affection. With a whistle that sounds like a squeaky toy he really is an adorable little man. Pigeon is fine with dogs who will ignore him but isn't a fan of cats. If you think you could offer Pigeon the kind of home he deserves please fill out the adoption questionnaire below.
