

Hi, my name is Boss

Looking for love

Medium Male Kelpie Mix Dog

Boss is currently on the hunt for a new family, this 2 year old goofball thinks he is a big puppy. Boss is looking for some humans who can help him out in the way of manners and obedience, he still thinks that it's ok to jump up at people and nip as if he was a puppy still. He will need a firm but guiding hand to help him out, while he is great around children we would suggest older children or teenagers that can stand up to him and correct him if he jumps up at them. He needs to be taught to calm down a bit as he gets excited and has lots of energy. With a little one on one training he has started to settle but needs someone to continue with this and help remind him of his manners. Boss loves going for walks and playing with toys, he can be dog selective at times and we are currently working on this and as he is not yet tested with cats we would suggest caution if you own one. Boss loves people especially men, if this fella is sounding like a good fit for you please fill in an application.
