

Hi, my name is Axel

Affectionate

Medium Male Kelpie Mix Dog

Hi I'm Axel my foster mum say I am very handsome. I was trying out to be a working dog however I didn't like that much so the nice lady sent me to Cairns Animal Rescue to find me the perfect place to live. Apparently I have come a long way in a couple of weeks. I can be a little timid at times but that's not very often now I have opened up to show my beautiful nature. I am great with other dogs, love playing with toys and being outside. I am great on the lead and I am still learning about big city living as it is all new to me but that is only from time to time. I am a fairly active pup and my foster mum says I'm super affectionate. My Foster mum says I am learning how to be calmer and am mastering containing my excitement. I have a lot of love to give and will make an awesome companion.
