Meet Roger! Roger came to us as a stray from a local vet. He seemed to be suffering a multitude of ailments (thinning hair, weepy eyes) for a young cat so was tested for feline immunodeficiency virus (FIV) or feline AIDS. Unfortunately Roger returned a positive result. Feline AIDS in cats is not a death sentence by any stretch but they do require a higher level of care and really should be an only cat to ensure that the disease isn't spread. They also MUST be indoor-only, to protect other cats from contracting FIV. Roger was also recently diagnosed with entropion, which explains the weepy eyes, and has had entropion surgery to fix this. Despite all that he has been through and all that he is faced with this guy is such a love bug. He is incredibly loved by hi...
