Looking for Love

Male Domestic Short Hair Cat

All About Me and My Unique Personality: Hi there, My name is Tommy and I am a very special little guy. After being rejected by my mother when I was a few days old I have been hand-raised by my foster mum, I was quite a sick little guy but I am a fighter! I had cat flu which gave me sore eyes and, as a result, I now have impaired vision and a bit of a wobbly head but that will not stop me from taking on life head first! I can be a little bit mouthy, this is because I am trying to figure out the world around me and like human babies, I use my mouth to do this. I love to be around people but can get a bit scared of loud noises that I'm not used to. I currently live in a very busy household but I think I would rather live somewhere a little bit quieter. My Ideal Home: I would love to live somewhere where I have someone home most of the time, I wouldn't mind having a fur friend however it wouldn't bother me if I was an only pet. I love kids but can get a bit spooked if they move too quickly. I am an indoor cat but I would love to have access to an outdoor cat run, although this is...
