

Hi, my name is Waratah

Loves Cuddles & Play!

Female Domestic Short Hair Cat

Waratah Waratah is one of the most special cats I've ever met. She is almost a year old but hasn't grown and has stayed kitten sized even though she eats like a horse. She had an incredibly rough start to life but she fought hard and has come out the other side as a well balanced loving cat who is ready for her forever home. Waratah was pulled out of a very bad situation as a kitten with her brother Wattle and her mum Banksia. As soon as I got them I realized something wasn't right. Once we got them back home and cleaned them up we realized something was very wrong with their eyelids. They were also covered in fleas, had horrific cat flu and ringworm. Even though they were sick they fought hard. We found out that Waratah and Wattle had eyelid agenesis (their eyelids didn't form properly) and this was causing their eyelids not to be able to close fully and also their eyelashes were rubbing right on their eyeballs causing painful ulcers and infections. We were lucky enough to get them in with Dr Kelly Caruso from the Eye Clinic for Animals who has revolutionized the ...
