

Hi, my name is Bronx

Oh so handsome!

Large Male American Bulldog Mix Dog

This handsome boofa is Bronx. He might have a tough name but this boy is a big softie who enjoys cuddles and thinks he's a lap dog. His fave past time is stretching out next to you watching TV in the air con! He's a gentle boy when taking treats from your hand and has good house manners, although food left on the coffee table may be a bit too much temptation! His toilet training is still a work in progress but he is improving every day; he just needs to be prompted to go outside regularly and he'll soon pick it up. Bronx is still quite puppy like and is still teething, so he needs a good supply of chew toys and a sturdy bed, as well as supervision around your more precious items. Bronx would love to be a part of an active household. He will need a good daily walk and also enjoys backyard games such as fetch with the rope or stuffed toys. He likes to be around his people, so a home where someone is home a fair bit would be ideal for him. Bronx has grown up in a home with 2 pre school children so is used to noise and a busy household, although of course because he's a large dog ...
