

Hi, my name is Elvis And Peggy Sue

Looking for love

Large Female German Shepherd Dog

Why have one when you can have 2!? Elvis and Peggy Sue are a bonded pair looking for their forever family. While we have no confirmation as to whether that they are or are not litter mates, both of these gorgeous German Shepherd's have a listed birth date of 20th February, 2019. Both Elvis and Peggy Sue have lived a sheltered life and have not received socialisation with other animals. They are very content with each other's company and it is recommended that they be rehomed with no other animals in the home. While they both adore people and just love cuddles and belly scratches, they can be a little unsure of new situations and would love a family who are prepared to be patient with them and who are ready to give them slow introductions to the world and all it has to offer them. Peggy Sue and Elvis enjoy being out for a walk together and although they would benefit from further lead training, they are progressing each day with their lead manners. With a regular routine and training, this should improve even more. With double the love and obviously an abundance o...
