

Hi, my name is Janelle

Looking for love

Female Domestic Short Hair Mix Cat

Hi there! I am timid young lady who came from a home with too many cats and hence was unable to get the love and attention needed! I'm sure I will be able be friends with other cats on the condition of a slow introduction. Janelle has been making fast progress lately. She loves to play with her treats before eating them and sitting on a windowsill to look at the world. She also likes playing with small toys when she thinks you're not looking but will stop if she spots you. She's even been coming up to our friends that visit often so we are really happy with that progress. She will definitely need a patient forever home but will flourish with time and space. She would do well with other cats, possibly better, she looked to our cats a lot for support. She would not do well with young children. She needs a calm home to slowly settle into.
