

Hi, my name is Fudge ~ Staffy X Lab Puppy (On Trial 31/07/21)

Flippin' Super Cute!

Medium Male Labrador x Staffy Dog

Hi My name is Fudge, I am a male 8wk old lab x staffy mix puppy and I am looking for my forever home. I'm still quite young but I love to run and play with my brothers and new foster doggy friends in a lovely big yard. Sometimes I get a bit enthusiastic and nip at them a little when we play so I will need some puppy training so that I am the best pup that I can be. I love a good treat and you should see me run when I get one and my brothers try to take it from me. I like my food and I'm not an overly fussy eater. I currently sleep with my two brothers at night time. I have started toilet training too, I like going outside to the toilet on the grass but will still need more training. I love to have a snuggle with my people I love cuddles and a good tummy scratch but I love to play more. I am learning to fetch and play tug of war. I like children, but my teeth are still a bit sharp and I'm going to be a medium to big boy when I grow up and might accidentally hurt little children so I think I should be adopted to a family with children over 10 years old, or someone that had...
