

Hi, my name is Cobalt Dingo

Looking for love

Medium Male Dingo Dog

Hi my name is Cobalt. I'm a senior dingo but still very active and I would love a family to spend my old age with. I'm 11 years old, but being a dingo I could live from 14-18 years old, so we'd still have plenty of time together. I'm a shy at first, because I came from a pretty sad background where I spent most of my life living in a small pen and didn't get to meet many people. Since coming to Sydney Fox and Dingo Rescue though I've started to warm up to the volunteers and make friends with people I see on a regular basis. I'd be best in a quiet home though with lots of patience and no kids. I'm not great with male dogs but would love a desexed female dog as a friend (medium or large breed). I walk well on lead and don't pull. I'm not house trained yet but could learn. Being a high content dingo I will need secure fencing at least 2.2m or a large secure enclosure. Animal rescue is considered essential. SFDR can still come to you for meet and greets, yard checks and animal adoptions. We have volunteers in Canberra and New South Wales and can come to you even if ...
