

Hi, my name is Purry And Alfie

Sweet cuddly babies

Female Domestic Short Hair Cat

Purry and Alfie are 2 beautiful affectionate bonded cats looking for their forever family. they spend most of the day sleeping or having sun baths close to the window. They are good with dogs. Purry is the the bigger and seems the leader of the two. The one with more white. He enjoys his own time alone but also loves being petted and chill next to you occasionally.

Alfie (smaller, darker coat) becomes more affectionate once he knows Purry trusts you. He likes coming to your desk for a nap (if you work from home) and constant being next to you. Loves his belly rubs. I can see why Alfie is smaller, Purry seems to dominate more so maybe gets to the food faster. They (especially Purry) are so affectionate so definitely need a large family or people who have time to spend with them.
