

Hi, my name is Betty, Charlie & Poppy

Little family

Female Sheep

Betty, Charlie and Poppy entered our care when a rescue group we work with closely were contacted to take on newborn lambs Poppy and Charlie, but when the volunteer transporter arrived to the farm they negotiated the surrender of their sick mother too Betty was down with pregnancy toxemia and unable to walk, she also was suffering from polio, a heavy worm burden and a uterine infection. She responded well to treatment and overcame the odds to stay earthbound with her lambs. She went through a break in her wool from a high fever but her health is on track now - she still needs to continue to gain body condition but she is doing really well! Before they head to their new home together Betty, Charlie and Poppy will be shorn, hoof trimmed, wormed and lice treated. They are up to date with vaccinations, microchipped and Charlie is desexed
