

Hi, my name is Nutmeg

Looking for love

Female Domestic Short Hair Cat

Nutmeg is such a friendly girl who has gone through so much. She came to the rescue heavily pregnant and gave birth to 5 kittens. She was a doting Mum and they were doing well until a week later when they started dying and we discovered that Nutmeg had a really bad infection in her uterus which was killing her babies. Nutmeg had to have emergency surgery to have her uterus removed and cleaned out of the infection. She had one remaining baby but that was given to another feeding mum as Nutmeg was unable to care for it. After all of this Nutmeg is the sweetest girl just wanting affection from who ever will give it to her. She is a gentle soul and deserves the happy ending.
