

Hi, my name is Neptune

Super attitude

Male Bird

Neptune was recently surrendered to us. He is not currently human friendly but has the potential to be a good friend for the right human. He just needs some love and a patient human. He has recently been vet assessed and we have been told he has grown up with a nutrient deficiency that has made his legs slightly deformed. He is still able to perch and will require large branches and a quality diet in his new home. Best suited to someone who has experience with quakers.
