

Hi, my name is Jingle & Tinsel

Two little shy babies

Male Domestic Short Hair Cat

Jingle is a playful little ginger MALE kitten and Tinsel is his tiny black FEMALE sister. They came to us from a pound just before Christmas, their time was up and they had nowhere to go. Thanks to one of our great foster carers they were able to be saved but were tiny, terrified little babies when they first got to their foster home. Jingle the ginger has been making progress playing with his foster carer with kitten wands and toys. His tiny sister, Tinsel, though is still very scared and will need the help of her brother and a special caring and loving forever home who are willing to put in the time to help her come out of her shell.

Their carer is currently working towards hand feeding and patting them. Jingle is getting friendlier by the day but tiny Tinsel definitely needs a family who will be understanding of her shyness and promise to spend time socialising them both. A home that's already very knowledgeable about cats would be great but we can also of course provide information on how best to continue with their care. As Jingle is the most confident of the litt...
